

Lessons

Basic instruction in most lace making techniques can be arranged to meet your needs. Beginners are always welcome.

Workshops

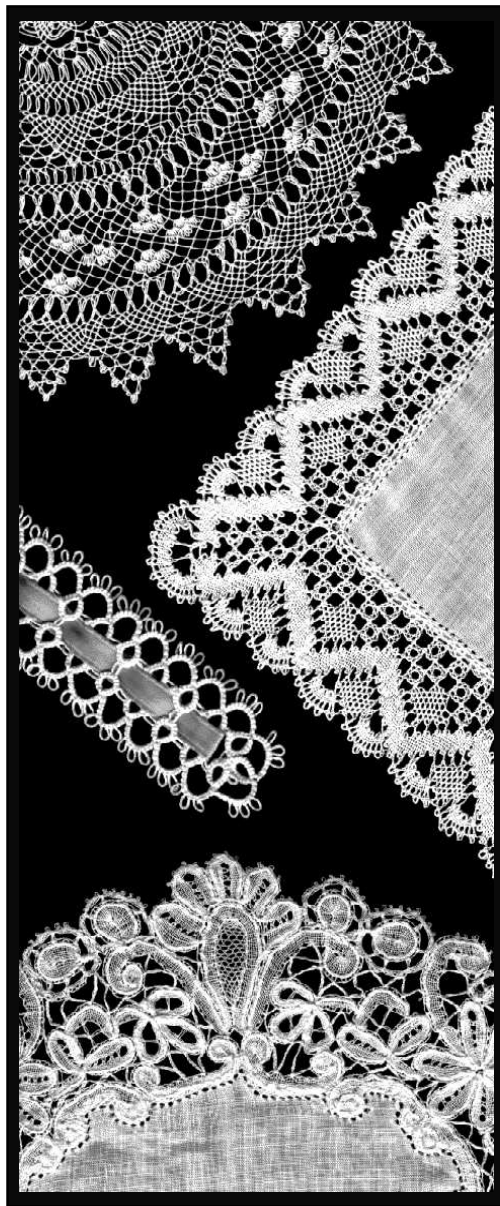

Workshops are held periodically during the year. Teachers from the U.S. and Europe conduct classes in all types of laces for students of all levels.

Lace Days

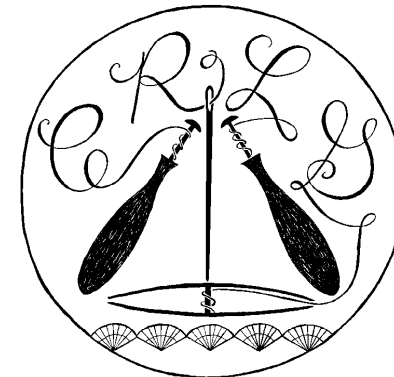

Lace Days are the highlight of our lacemaking year. In addition to guest speakers and mini-workshops, lace supplies, books, and patterns are available for purchase. Lace Days are held on the 4th Saturdays in April and October.

The Chesapeake Region Lace Guild is one of the many chartered chapters of the International Organization of Lacers, Inc., also known as IOLI, which provides further opportunities for lace enjoyment.

The Chesapeake Region Lace Guild (CRLG) is an organization of people who meet regularly to study and promote an interest in lace and lace making, in the areas of:

- History and use of lace
- Interpretation and making of various laces
- Identification and collection
- Care and conservation
- Contact with area lace makers.

Membership is drawn from the National Capital Area and surrounding states.

The Guild holds general meetings known as Lace Days in April and October, at which various aspects of lace are explored and studied.

Membership in CRLG entitles members to:

- Workshops by experts in various lace disciplines
- A directory of members and area teachers
- Bi-monthly newsletter of events, patterns, ideas, and news of lace activities
- A library of slides, CDs, and books

The Chesapeake Region Lace Guild is a non-profit organization. The membership year is the calendar year. For more information, visit our web site at www.CRLG.org. To join, mail the attached form and check made out to CRLG to:
