

Chesapeake Region Lace Guild

Where lacemaking lives on

From the President ...

Fall Lace Day is right around the corner with some interesting plans in place. I hope you have it on your calendar.

Sasha Baskin will present the morning lecture. Some of us met her when demonstrating at the Baltimore Museum of Art. Holly Van Sciver will be our vendor again this fall. There are seven afternoon mini workshops to select from. You can decide on two to take part in. They sound so interesting, they may need to be offered again! Thank you, members, for sharing your incredible talents!

As discussed at the April Annual meeting, all 2025 dues should be paid before the end of this year. You can make it easy by bringing the CRLG membership form and your check to Fall Lace Day. That will help the membership chair, Mary Tod, prepare the CRLG directory early in 2025.

Finally, I want to remind you that CRLG is again doing a lace ornament exchange. If you want to take part, email me (benningLK@gmail.com) no later November 25. You will be notified via email the name and address of the person to send your ornament by November 30.

Lace Day Lecture by Sasha C. Baskin Portraits in Bobbin Lace and Weaving

Sasha Baskin combines traditional weaving and lacemaking with pop culture source imagery to consider how shows like "The Bachelor" function to create modern mythological systems. She holds a BFA in Drawing from the Maryland Institute College of Art and an MFA in Craft/Material Studies from Virginia Commonwealth University. Baskin was a 2018-2019 Artist in Residence at Arrowmont School of Arts and Crafts and a 2020 and 2022 Penland Winter Resident. She is a current member of the American Craft Council's 2024 Emerging Artist Cohort. Her teaching record includes undergraduate coursework at the Maryland Institute College of Art, Stevenson University, and Virginia Commonwealth University as well as workshops at John C Campbell Folk School and Penland School of Craft. Baskin currently teaches at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore Maryland.

In case you missed taking the Beds class when Jean Leader was here, you can now take one from her in Scotland!

Whether you have been making lace for a matter of months, for several years, or are a complete beginner you will receive personal tuition tailored to your particular experience and wishes.

Jean will contact you beforehand to find out what lace you have already made and what you hope to achieve. Together we will then draw up an individual programme for your week at Gartmore House.

Four spaces still available!

PLEASE RENEW YOUR MEMBERSHIP

Please remember that CRLG membership is for a calendar year, and we collect dues for 2025 between October 1 and December 31, 2024. The time to renew your membership to stay on the mailing list and to be eligible to sign up for workshops is NOW! You can renew online or by sending a check (payable to CRLG) to the Treasurer at the following address: CRLG Treasurer, 125 Timberbrook Lane #302, Gaithersburg, MD 20878-2874. If you are not certain whether you have already paid your dues for 2025, please contact your membership chair, Mary Tod, at marytod@me.com.

In both cases, you need to also send the filled out membership form to the Treasurer. Please do not forget this important step so that we can maintain accurate records for our directory. If paying online, please submit the form to Kerry Gruber at kerryknits@grubersbar.us.

Annual Dues: $20

Thank you,
Mary Tod

International Organization of Lace, Inc.

The Chesapeake Region Lace Guild (CRLG) is an educational non-profit association. As a Charter Chapter of the International Organization of Lace, Inc., the objectives of the Guild are to promote interest in the fine old laces, to preserve fine laces for posterity, to study the history and characteristics of lace, to teach and promote lacemaking and lace identification, to promote and encourage lace exhibits, and to encourage museums that own lace collections to exhibit their collections and make them generally available for viewing by the public at large.
