Where lacemaking lives on

FALL LACE DAY Saturday, October 26, 2019

Hello Chesapeake Region Lace Guild,

We gather at a new location for our Fall Lace Day:

Adventist Health Care Center for Professional Development
14915 Broschart Road, Suite 100
Rockville, MD 20850

Thank you to Alicia Clugh who has been able to reserve this free space for us!

We are looking forward to our speaker for Fall Lace Day: Devon Their discussing the recent "Lace not Lace" exhibit at the Hunterdon Museum.

We will gather at 9:30a.m. for coffee and registration. Our business meeting will be a 10, with our speaker at 11. Following a bring your own brown bag lunch, we will be offering a few Mini Workshops from 12:30-2:00p.m.

Mini Workshops are 12:45-2:15 pm; see workshop objectives and supplies on the registration form (link provided at end of this article).

When you register, you will be asked to rank your choices 1-5 with 1 being your first choice and 5 being your last choice.

No more than 8 in each workshop so first registered, first served.

Congratulations to the Winners of the CRLG Lace Awards at the Maryland State Fair

The Chesapeake Region Lace Guild presents two awards at the Maryland State Fair for bobbin lace and tatted lace. The 2019 winner of the CRLG Special Award for Bobbin Lace was Karen Haynes. She made a delicate motif of a mouse on wheat in Honiton. Our CRLG Award winner of Tattling was Wendy Carballo for an impressive small tablecloth.

CRLG was well represented at the Maryland State Fair with numerous lace entries and lots of volunteers demonstrating and sharing the love of lace-making. Fair Demonstrators included Peggy Spencer, Mary Tod, Yael Bloom, Julie Shalack, Karen Haynes, Kimberly Stern, and Susan Kuvelker

Lace on Display at the Museum of Culpeper History

Anita Barry of both CRLG and the Piedmont Lace Guild has been instrumental in helping with a Lace Exhibit at the Museum of Culpeper History. Two lace exhibits opened in the museum earlier this month and will be up through early 2020. The two exhibits are: "Lace: The Finest Threads," including items from the museum's permanent collection, and "Lace Making Today," a display of work created by Piedmont Lace Guild members.

As the exhibit continues, the Piedmont Lace Guild hopes to have demonstrations at least one day each weekend. If you are interested in seeing the exhibit and/or demonstrating please contact Anita Barry for more information: anita.bothyfarm@comcast.net

DEMONSTRATION HOURS

Since CRLG is a member organization of IOLI, we keep track of demonstration hours all year and report those figures to IOLI. This an accountability measure for our mission and purpose, from our by-laws:

This organization is formed for educational, non-profit purposes, to promote interest and appreciation for lace and lacemaking, including:

- Sharing information on the history, collection and preservation of lace
- Developing lacemaking skills through instruction and demonstrations, and
- Furthering the aims of the International Organization of Lace, Inc. (I.O.L.I.).

Thank you to Tamara Webb who receives all the reports of demonstration hours and tabulates them, then submits them to IOLI. Tamara want everyone to know that the reporting is now streamlined!!! She only needs the total number of hours volunteered not the break down on whether the hours were travel or preparation or demonstration -- just the total of them all.

Please email your total volunteer hours to Tamara: tamaraweb@aol.com
